

All About Amy

Amy McGrew is Trinity's Interim Coordinator of Children's and Youth Ministries.

Over 25 years ago, Amy McGrew embarked on a life-long commitment to invest in students and their leaders. Amy has been on staff in small to mega churches—in children's, middle school, high school and college-age ministries. She has worked on staff with non-profits who come alongside students and leaders in children's and youth ministry. She has her M.A. in Youth Ministry from Asbury Theological Seminary.

Currently Amy is multi-careering as a freelance speaker and consultant, retail pharmacy technician, and an interim youth / children's director with InterServe Ministries in churches of various denominations. For fun, she volunteers as a Spiritual Director providing opportunities to notice and respond to God's invitations in the midst of everyday life. Amy is an avid learner and traveler, and a fan of hammocks, sheep and Korean TV shows/music.

Amy joins Trinity through InterServe Ministries:

InterServe Ministries' role is to serve alongside congregations as they experience times of transition and change in their children's and youth ministry leadership staff. They help congregations work through current needs and changes, discover possibilities and goals for their children's and youth ministry, and come alongside students, parents and volunteers to dream, create and implement a viable, Christ-centered children's and youth ministry built from the congregation up. Therefore, an InterServe Ministry Associate's role here is two-fold. First, she is responsible for the maintenance of the children's and youth programming during this time. Second, she is here to help the church grieve, discern, evaluate, and strategize for the future of the children's and youth ministry program.
